

Church of St. Mary Magdalene

THIRTY-THIRD SUNDAY IN ORDINARY TIME

November 13, 2022

And while some were speaking of the temple, how it was adorned with noble stones and offerings, he said, "As for these things that you see, the days will come when there will not be left here one stone upon another that will not be thrown down." And they asked him, "Teacher, when will these things be, and what will be the sign when these things are about to take place?" And he said, "See that you are not led astray. For many will come in my name, saying, 'I am he!' and, 'The time is at hand!' Do not go after them. And when you hear of wars and tumults, do not be terrified, for these things must first take place, but the end will not be at once."

Three O'clock Prayer

You expired, Jesus, but the source of life gushed forth for souls and an ocean of mercy opened up for the whole world. O Fount of Life, unfathomable Divine Mercy, envelop the world and empty Yourself out upon us.

O Blood and Water, which gushed forth from the Heart of Jesus as a fount of mercy for us, I trust in You (3X)

Jesus, I trust In You (3X)

Welcome!

THIRTY-THIRD SUNDAY IN ORDINARY TIME

A Scriptural Reflection

Reflecting on God's Word

Worlds do change. They come and they go. One day we simply stop climbing up on our mother's or father's lap. Or we quit reading comic books, or put away our Barbies®, or we begin to notice beauty. It happens more than once in a lifetime. We pass the exam and get our driver's license, and in a moment all of childhood's boundaries crumble. We graduate from school and our days become our own, sometimes frighteningly so. We move away from home and realize we can no longer return, not to the way it once was. And while we think all those moments are of our own doing, in truth they are not, none of them. They come upon us as does November out of autumn, and frequently just as bleak. The temples of our lives that we've adorned not only with precious stones but also with precious memories and treasured ways, are always being torn down without one stone left upon another. And no one ever asks our permission.

The new worlds we fear the most, however, are not the ones that change our outer landscapes so much as the ones that can reshape our inner landscapes. For believers, for those who live by the ways of Jesus, it is faith that offers us the willingness to trust and the courage to continue on. Jesus' vision can become the one still point in our ever-changing world, or the one source of life and love when all else is collapsing.

PASTOR'S MESSAGE

Dear Parishioners,

This weekend our nation celebrates Veterans Day in which we are invited to pause and offer thoughts and prayers of gratitude for the many men and women, past and present, who have served our nation in the Armed Services. In 1999, while speaking to a gathering of Military Chaplains, Pope John Paul II offered the following reflection regarding the good that these men and women accomplish: "In democratic societies there is a growing conviction that the Armed Forces are called to be instruments of peace and harmony among peoples and of support for the weakest. In this regard, how can we forget the numerous missions in which the Armed Forces were on the front lines in offering their generous help to peoples struck by natural calamities or humanitarian tragedies? How can we not admire the dangers and sacrifices that are faced by those who carry out peace-keeping missions in countries destroyed by senseless civil wars? With these interventions, the Armed Forces gain more and more credit as defenders of inalienable human values such as life, freedom, law and justice. This conception of military life is in harmony with the Gospel message that offers many pastoral opportunities for the Military Ordinariate Church."

Speaking of gratitude believe it or not the holidays will quickly be upon us. Our parish will celebrate on Thanksgiving morning with Mass at 9:00am I invite you to start your day by joining us.

Early in his pontificate, Saint John Paul II wrote about the centrality of the Eucharist in the life of the believer. I would like to share a part of that letter with you. The Holy Father wrote: Since therefore the Eucharist is the source of charity, it has always been at the center of the life of Christ's disciples. It has the appearance of bread and wine, that is to say of food and drink; it is therefore as familiar to people, as closely linked to their life, as food and drink. The veneration of God, who is love, springs, in Eucharistic worship, from that kind of intimacy in which He Himself, by analogy with food and drink, fills our spiritual being, ensuring its life, as food and drink do. This "Eucharistic" veneration of God therefore strictly corresponds to His saving plan. He Himself, the Father, wants the "true worshipers" to worship Him precisely in this way, and it is Christ who expresses this desire, both with His words and likewise with this sacrament in which He makes possible worship of the Father in the way most in conformity with the Father's will. From this concept of Eucharistic worship there then stems the whole sacramental style of the Christian's life. In fact, leading a life based on the sacraments and animated by the common priesthood means in the first place that Christians desire God to act in them in order to enable them to attain, in the Spirit, "the fullness of Christ himself."

God, on His part, does not touch them only through events and by this inner grace; He also acts in them with greater certainty and power through the sacraments. The sacraments give the lives of Christian's sacramental style. Now, of all the sacraments, it is the Holy Eucharist that brings to fullness their initiation as Christians and confers upon the exercise of the common priesthood that sacramental and ecclesial form that links it, as we mentioned before to the exercise of the ministerial priesthood. In this way Eucharistic worship is the center and goal of all sacramental life. In the depths of Eucharistic worship we find a continual echo of the sacraments a Christian initiation: Baptism and Confirmation. Where better is there expressed the truth that we are not only "called God's children" but "that is what we are" by virtue of the sacrament of Baptism, if not precisely in the fact that in the Eucharist we become partakers of the body and blood of God's only Son? And what predisposes us more to be "true witnesses of Christ" before the world-as we are enabled to be by the sacrament of Confirmation-than Eucharistic Communion, in which Christ bears witness to us, and we to Him? But we must always take care that this great meeting with Christ in the Eucharist does not become a mere habit, and that we do not receive Him unworthily, that is to say, in a state of mortal sin. The practice of the virtue of penance and the sacrament of Penance are essential for sustaining in us and continually deepening that spirit of veneration which man owes to God Himself and to His love so marvelously revealed.

Pastor

Prayer for the Deployed Military

As a faith community let's pray for all those who serve our country during these troubled times.

We pray especially for those of our parish who are deployed or will soon be deployed. We also thank God for those who have returned safely.

Let us pray:

Almighty God, be their constant companion and strength in every adversity. May they always experience your presence, love and comfort.

Communion for the Homebound

If you have an incapacitated loved one who is unable to attend Mass and would like to receive The Holy Eucharist at home, please contact the parish office at (619) 276-1041.

Moms' Catholic Book Study
New Study Beginning December 7

As women, how can we show our children, families, and friends our living, personal Catholic faith? This book will lead us through the steps that will help us enter more deeply into a relationship with God. We will also learn about the five thresholds of post-modern conversion, how to ask thought-provoking questions and establish an atmosphere of trust, when to tell the Great Story of Jesus, how to help someone respond to God's call to intentional discipleship and much more. Join us on this journey. Book and study guide is available through your local Catholic Bookstore or Amazon.

Dates: December 7, 2022 - February 8, 2023

Time: 10:00am - 12:00pm

2021 Christmas Gift Baskets/Gift Bags

With the holiday season fast approaching, CCSA has the following Christmas-giving opportunities:

- ❖ Christmas Gift Baskets for families in need of a Holiday meal
- ❖ Gift Bags for homeless individuals;
- ❖ Extra Christmas Food Baskets for families who do not sign up for assistance, but come for service closer to Christmas.

The success of these programs depends heavily on community support. Our hope is to make Christmas, for all who come to us for help, a bit brighter this year. You may sign-up online at www.ccsasandiego.org.

WWWA Advent Mini Retreat

Join us for a short journey this Advent to ponder Mary's humble "yes" and reflect on the areas in our own lives where we may be challenged to say "yes" to God's plan. Department Chair of Theology at Mater Dei Catholic High School, Anamaria Anthony, will take us on this journey and help us to discover how the ordinary becomes the extraordinary. See how lived experiences and God's Word can come together and settle within our hearts to transform us as we anticipate Christ coming into our lives more fully.
