

Church of St. Mary Magdalene

FOURTH SUNDAY OF EASTER

APRIL 21, 2024

The Good Shepherd

I am the good shepherd. A good shepherd lays down his life for the sheep. A hired man, who is not a shepherd and whose sheep are not his own, sees a wolf coming and leaves the sheep and runs away, and the wolf catches and scatters them. This is because he works for pay and has no concern for the sheep. I am the good shepherd, and I know mine and mine know me, just as the Father knows me and I know the Father; and I will lay down my life for the sheep. I have other sheep that do not belong to this fold. These also I must lead, and they will hear my voice, and there will be one flock, one shepherd. This is why the Father loves me, because I lay down my life in order to take it up again. No one takes it from me, but I lay it down on my own. I have power to lay it down, and power to take it up again. This command I have received from my Father.”

Three O'clock Prayer

You expired, Jesus, but the source of life gushed forth for souls and an ocean of mercy opened up for the whole world. O Fount of Life, unfathomable Divine Mercy, envelop the world and empty Yourself out upon us.

O Blood and Water, which gushed forth from the Heart of Jesus as a fount of mercy for us, I trust in You (3X)

Jesus, I trust In You (3X)

We joyously welcome the newest member of our faith community.

Living God's Word

The divine instinct to lay down and to take up is how the Lord Jesus shepherds us, modeling so well what it means to be divine that we find ourselves imitating him and growing in his likeness. That divine instinct is how the Spirit shepherds through us.

FOURTH SUNDAY OF EASTER

A Scriptural Reflection

Reflecting on God's Word

All of creation has the power to lay down its life. The yearly seasons lay down the bounty of their harvest, and daily our own lives pour forth their energy into tasks and labors—all a laying down. Most people want to be and are generous. Most people want to forgive. Most people want to be patient, to sacrifice for the sake of love, to give back what is received. Most people want to give of themselves for the happiness of others, to do service for the community, to donate blood, to be able to forgo their own way for the sake of harmony, to be courageous even at great cost.

All of creation also has the power to take up life again. Springtime returns; each morning we instinctively awaken to another day; weakened bodies heal. We also have the power to take up life. We seek relationships of love; we desire to en flesh that love with children. We work hard; we long to be creative; we strive to be good; we seek to create harmony and peace. We hunger for a relationship with our God. And we succeed more often than not. We do have a God-given power to take up new life. It is our God's command to us.

That dual rhythm of laying down and taking up is but the echo of the Lord Jesus and how he chose to live among us. It was his Father's command to him, bred in his bones and in his spirit, and it is a command that continues to show itself in our lives.

PASTOR'S MESSAGE

Dear Parishioners,

Today, as the Church celebrates what has been traditionally called "Good Shepherd Sunday", it is fitting that this weekend has also been designated as the Annual World Day of Prayer for Vocations. The purpose of the World Day of Prayer is to constitute a public witness of the community at prayer in obedience to the Lord's command, "Pray the Lord of the harvest to send laborers into his harvest" (Mt. 9:38; Lk. 10:2). It is a high point in what ought to be an on-going prayer, and it affirms the primacy of faith and grace in all that concerns vocations to the priesthood and religious life. We are reminded that On the World Day of Prayer for Vocations, the Church, while valuing all vocations, concentrates its attention on vocations to the ordained life (priesthood and the diaconate), to the religious life in all of its forms (male and female, contemplative and apostolic, clerical and lay), to societies of apostolic life, to secular institutes in their diversity of services and membership, and to the missionary life, in the particular sense of mission "ad gentes."

I would ask you to keep in prayer this week the students of our School and Religious Education programs who celebrate their first Eucharist over the next three Saturdays. Please also keep in prayer the young people of our parish who are preparing for the Sacrament of Confirmation which will be celebrated this coming Thursday, April 25th.

Pope John Paul II, in one of his message for the World Day of Prayer for Vocations, published prior to his death, reminded us that the responsibility of promoting vocations is the responsibility of all the members of the Church. He wrote: "Now I turn to you, dear parents and Christian educators, to you dear priests, consecrated persons and catechists. God has entrusted to you the peculiar task of guiding young people on the path to holiness. Be an example to them of generous fidelity to Christ. Encourage them to 'put out into the deep' without hesitation, responding eagerly to the invitation of the Lord. Some he calls to family life, others to consecrated life or to the ministerial priesthood. Help them to discern their path, and to become true friends of Christ and his true disciples. When adult Christians show themselves capable of revealing the face of Christ through their own words and example, young people are more ready to welcome His demanding message, stamped as it is with the mystery of the Cross. Do not forget that today too there is need of holy priests, of persons wholly consecrated to the service of God!

Fr. Ed McNulty,
Pastor

STEWARDSHIP

Follow The Shepherd

We're all familiar with the image: Jesus, staff in hand, carrying a lamb across his shoulders. It's a beautiful image but it doesn't reflect the reality of shepherding as hard and sometimes risky work. In the passage prior to today's Gospel Jesus has healed a blind man on the Sabbath day and the Pharisees say he has broken the law, which forbids all work on the Lord's day—even healing! Jesus says that, as the Good Shepherd, he is not like hired hands who collect pay for watching the sheep, but abandon them in time of need. Jewish scriptures frequently describe God as shepherd. Joseph was saved "By the power of the Mighty One of Jacob, because of the Shepherd, the Rock of Israel" (Genesis 49:24). Such imagery was also used by Moses and the prophets as well as the psalmists: "Give ear, O Shepherd of Israel, you who lead Joseph like a flock!" (Psalm 80:1) and "The LORD is my shepherd; I shall not want" (Psalm 23:1). So the Pharisees know exactly what Jesus means: not only is he prepared to break the Sabbath law, but he is claiming to be God, an outrage in their eyes. They also know he is contrasting himself with them—the hired hands entrusted with the care of God's people, but caring more for rules and regulations. The Pharisees were not completely evil people, but in their obsession with religious rules they had lost sight of the living heart of Judaism (see Deuteronomy 10:12–20 and Micah 6:8). In addition, they lacked humility and were quick to pass judgment on others who followed the rules less devotedly. Any time we set ourselves up to say that others are less worthy, less obedient, less devout than we are, trouble follows. Let's keep our eyes on the Shepherd and follow him.

Living Stewardship Now

Are you living by the rules, but have no peace of heart? Are you looking at others—especially within the church community—and seeing them as misguided, incorrect, or deficient? Are you standing in judgment of others for their sinfulness? What would Jesus like you to do about this?
