Church of St. Mary Magdalene

TWENTIETH SUNDAY IN ORDINARY TIME — AUGUST 16, 2026

Then Jesus went from that place and withdrew to the region of Tyre and Sidon. And behold, a Canaanite woman of that district came and called out, “Have pity on me, Lord, Son of David! My daughter is tormented by a demon.” But he did not say a word in answer to her. His disciples came and asked him, “Send her away, for she keeps calling out after us.” He said in reply, “I was sent only to the lost sheep of the house of Israel.” But the woman came and did him homage, saying, “Lord, help me.” He said in reply, “It is not right to take the food of the children and throw it to the dogs.” She said, “Please, Lord, for even the dogs eat the scraps that fall from the table of their masters.” Then Jesus said to her in reply, “O woman, great is your faith! Let it be done for you as you wish.” And her daughter was healed from that hour.

TWENTIETH SUNDAY IN ORDINARY TIME

Scriptural Reflection

"Beggars can't be choosers!" we might say to a child who asks for a different candy bar from the one we have handed him. "Beggars can't be choosers!" we might think as we watch a struggling mother sort through hand-me-downs at the free store. "Beggars can't be choosers!" we might tell ourselves when we are mistreated by someone we rely on to supply our needs. Those four little words may seem logical and harmless. Yet, how many children, unemployed, elderly, sick, or otherwise vulnerable people have lost their self-respect and stopped voicing their needs because they believe those four little words!

Today's scriptures challenge us to stop using, or even thinking, those four words. They invite us to see that, yes, beggars can and should be choosers. The first and second readings seem directed to those who feel they deserve better than others. They show God's mercy extending to all who call on and love the name of the Lord, and remind us that all of us have disobeyed, thus all of us are beggars. The Gospel speaks to those who feel they deserve worse than others. The Canaanite woman is held up as a model to imitate, not someone to be scorned and rejected. We are encouraged never again to let feelings of unworthiness convince us that our needs don't deserve a hearing, respect, and a response.

Living God's Word

The Canaanite woman seems to convert Jesus by expressing faith in him and faith in herself. How might you express your faith in God, in others, and in yourself? How might God use your faith to convert others?

PASTOR'S MESSAGE

Dear Parishioners,

It is that time of year again when schools are starting back up and education is at the forefront of our minds. This is true not only with the regular academic schedule but also with our Religious Education program. If you have a child in need of ongoing formation in the faith I would encourage you see our parish website to register on line or to contact our Religious Education office as soon as possible so that our staff can assist you.

Believe it or not our school resumes this week. Beginning last Wednesday we welcomed our teachers and staff back and then this week almost 600 students (pre-school thru 8th grade) will begin the 2026-2027 school year. Again, I am grateful for all those who have worked this summer to prepare our school grounds and classrooms for this new academic year. Please pray for our students as well as all those going back to school in these next few weeks. May God grant them wisdom and peace as they continue their studies. Please also be aware of the extra little pedestrians and increased traffic during school hours particularly during morning and afternoons.

As you hopefully noticed one of our summer projects has been completed with the repair and repaving of the parking lot. This project would not have been financially possible without the significant contribution from our school community.

A few years ago, the Vatican published a document on the Role of Parish Community. I would like to share some parts of this document for our reflection. The authors write: since its inception, the Parish is envisioned as a response to a precise pastoral need, namely that of bringing the Gospel to the People through the proclamation of the faith and the celebration of the Sacraments. The etymology of the word makes clear the meaning of the institution: the Parish is a house among houses and is a response to the logic of the Incarnation of Jesus Christ, alive and active among the community. It is visibly characterized then, as a place of worship, a sign of the permanent presence of the Risen Lord in the midst of his People. The territorial configuration of the Parish, however, must confront a peculiar characteristic of our contemporary world, whereby increased mobility and the digital culture have expanded the confines of existence. On the one hand, people are less associated today with a definite and immutable geographical context, living instead in "a global and pluralist village"; on the other hand, the digital culture has inevitably altered the concept of space, together with people's language and behavior, especially in younger generations. Moreover, it is quite easy to hypothesize about how the continuous development of technology will ultimately change our way of thinking, together with the understanding of self and of social living.

The speed of change, successive cultural models, the ease of movement and the speed of communication are transforming the perception of space and time. As a living community of believers, the Parish finds itself in a context whereby the territorial affiliation is increasingly less evident, where places of association are multiplied and where interpersonal relationships risk being dissolved into a virtual world without any commitment or responsibility towards one's neighbor. It is noteworthy how such cultural changes and the evolving territorial ties are fostering within the Church, through the grace of the Holy Spirit, a new discernment around community, "which consists in seeing reality with the eyes of God, with a view to unity and communion". The whole People of God must urgently embrace the Holy Spirit's invitation to begin the process of "renewing" the face of the earth.
