Living God's Word

Over the past few weeks the scriptures have provided us with a feast of images of God's abundant mercy. Today's image of the heavenly banquet both completes the picture of God's generosity and shifts our attention to our response to God's generous invitation.

TWENTY-EIGHTH SUNDAY IN ORDINARY TIME

Scriptural Reflection

As Catholics we are invited to "come to the feast" at significant moments in our lives. Baptisms, First Communions, marriages, ordinations, and funeral rites are all commonly celebrated within the feast of the Eucharist. The clothes we wear—from the baptismal garment to the funeral pall, from fancy wedding garb to simple white albs—reflect our baptismal commitment to be faithful to Christ until we come to the eternal heavenly feast that our eucharistic celebrations anticipate. All are invited to come to the feast. All are invited to dress in the garment of Christ. Not all respond to the invitation.

It has often been asked what would happen if, some Sunday morning, praying as we always do for Christ to come again, Christ actually did return. Would we come to his feast? Would we prefer our small private gathering to the huge mass of people we don't really want to know? Would we be found wearing the garment of faithfulness we were given in baptism? Where would we be "on that day"?

Pastor's Message

Dear Parishioners,

The month of November is fast approaching and once again this year, we would like to remember all of our beloved deceased. If you would like to have a picture of your loved one placed in the church as we have done in the past, there is a box in the entrance of the church to receive photos, which will be displayed. Also, in the next few weeks, envelopes will be available for those who may wish to enroll a departed loved one in our All Souls Novena of Masses. You may drop your envelope in the basket on Sunday or return them directly to our Parish Office by October 31st.

This coming Monday our nation celebrates Columbus Day and so I thought it might be good to be reminded of the origins of this celebration and in particular the role that Catholic organizations played in its beginnings. "The first recorded celebration of Columbus Day in the United States took place on October 12, 1792. Organized by The Society of St. Tammany, also known as the Columbian Order, it commemorated the 300th anniversary of Columbus' landing. The 400th anniversary of the event, however, inspired the first official Columbus Day holiday in the United States. In 1892, President Benjamin Harrison issued a proclamation urging Americans to mark the day. The public responded enthusiastically, organizing school programs, plays, and community festivities across the country. Over the following decades, the Knights of Columbus, lobbied state legislatures to declare October 12 a legal holiday. Colorado was the first state to do so on April 1, 1907. New York declared Columbus Day a holiday in 1909 and on October 12, 1909, New York Governor Charles Evans Hughes led a parade that included the crews of two Italian ships, several Italian-American societies, and legions of the Knights of Columbus. Since 1971, Columbus Day, designated as the second Monday in October, has been celebrated as a federal holiday. In many locations across the country Americans parade in commemoration of the day."

In the next few weeks, as we approach the national elections in November, we will be experiencing an ever increasing amount of information on politicians and political issues. Therefore, with this in mind, I wish to continue to share with you brief passages from Faithful Citizenship Civic Responsibility for a New Millennium a Statement on Political Responsibility by the Administrative Board of the U.S. Catholic Bishops. The Bishops wrote: "Building peace, combating poverty and despair, and protecting freedom and human rights are not only moral imperatives; they are wise national priorities. Given its enormous power and influence in world affairs, the United States has a special responsibility to ensure that it is a force for justice and peace beyond our borders. 'Liberty and justice for all' is not only a profound national pledge; it is a worthy goal for our nation in its role as world leader."

Stewardship

Dress The Part

Can you imagine being invited to a reception at the White House? Furthermore, can you imagine showing up in any old outfit you just happened to pull from your closet? Almost certainly you would accept the invitation promptly, and then make preparations to be dressed in your finest. Jesus' story in today's Gospel has some surprising twists and turns. It concerns a king hosting a wedding feast for his son. Even the weddings of ordinary people at the time were days filled with ritual and feasting, so a king's summons to such an event was a singular mark of favor. Even so, some of the invited guests decide they have better things to do and refuse. Some are so angry at being interrupted that they attack the messengers. The king is furious and deals harshly with those who have murdered his servants. Now the king offers his invitation to the crowds in the streets: anyone who wants to can come to this feast. The banquet hall, we are told, fills up with a motley crew of guests. Among the crowd, however, the king spots one man who is not dressed for the occasion and who cannot explain why. This guest is thrown out into the dark night. Yet how could the man have been properly dressed? Wasn't he just pulled in off the street? Yes, but the king would have had a wedding garment waiting for each guest at the entrance. This man did not bother to pick one up. In Jesus' time, this was an insult of the worst kind to the host. We are all invited to the table of the Lord. Our outer wedding garment is to dress with care and respect. Our inner garment is to put on Christ, clothing ourselves in his love and goodness in order to be worthy of the Kingdom.

World Mission Sunday Next Week
"One Christ, United in Mission"

World Mission Sunday (WMS) is a special day celebrated by the Catholic Church around the world to recognize and support the Church's missionary work. Each year, the Pope chooses a theme for World Mission Sunday. This year's theme, "One in Christ, United in Mission". This is the best way we can help the Holy Father and share in the universal mission of the Church to spread the faith through prayer and sacrifice. We may not be able to GO to the missions, but we can SEND to the missions both our prayers as well as the material means they need so much.

Envelopes can be found at the entrance of the church.

Culture of Life Ministry Corner
How Do We Create a Culture of Life Within the Church?

Each October the church celebrates Respect for Life month. As Catholics, we are called to cherish, defend, and protect those who are most vulnerable from the beginning of life to the end. This year, USCCB identified this year's theme as "Mary, Mother of Life." The life of the Blessed Mother teaches us to respect life in every stage and circumstance. So how do we create a culture of life within the church and meet the call as Catholics? We think of Mary and her unselfish acceptance to God's will throughout her entire life. When we look within our society, we have many opportunities to meet the call. When someone is facing trials, we meet them where they are, walk with them on their journey, intercede for them and be open to sharing Christ's love however He directs. When a woman becomes pregnant, we need to lovingly walk with her. When a family member or friend becomes seriously ill, we need to assure them that God loves them, and they still have purpose. We need to be consistently with them every step of the way. Changing the culture begins in our own hearts and includes a willingness to be close to Jesus and do God's will.

Let's look to Mary as our model for upholding the sanctity of human life. For detailed information and resources regarding October Respect for Life, please visit respectlife.org/respect-life-month or visit the Culture of Life table and the prayer table inside the church.
