It is difficult to love, especially when we have been hurt by others. Ask the Holy Spirit to bring you the "fire of God's love." Call on the Spirit to deepen your awareness of God's love for you, shown by giving us life and the gifts of faith, hope, and love.

THIRTIETH SUNDAY IN ORDINARY TIME

Scriptural Reflection

In an article on "successful aging" (New Theology Review, November, 2010), Dr. Lawrence M. Lenoir proposes that the art of giving and receiving love is at the heart of growing old gracefully. Research shows that being in a loving relationship quiets the demons of depression and despair. So, if you want to be healthy, be loving. Jesus would agree.

The rabbis of Jesus' day argued about which was the greatest commandment of the six hundred thirteen in the Torah. When the Pharisees asked Jesus, he answered that what God wanted most from the chosen people who had been liberated from slavery and called to live in a covenantal relationship was a return of the love God showed to them. This love has two faces: loving God totally and loving one another as one loves oneself.

Loving is a contagious activity. If you are loved, you tend to be loving. Paul is sounding this note when he writes to the Thessalonians about how they became imitators of him and his fellow evangelizers Timothy and Silvanus, and of the Lord himself, receiving the word and living in faith, joy, and love for each other, because they believed in God's love for them, revealed in Christ.

Our love must flow outward in compassionate generosity. The Lord called on Israel to show its love by not oppressing aliens, not wronging weak orphans and defenseless widows, and not extorting the poor by demanding interest on loans. No less is asked of those who have received the Holy Spirit and live in community with the Father, Son, and Holy Spirit. That's us. Love one another.

Pastor's Message

Dear Parishioners,

The month of November begins with two great feast days, All Saints and All Souls. The Feast of All Saints was first celebrated in the 4th century in the Eastern Church as the feast of All Martyrs. Pope Gregory IV established this feast for the Roman Church in 835 and it was originally celebrated on Easter Friday. Later, in the 9th century, it was transferred to November 1st, the date of its celebration in Ireland where it countered the Celtic pagan feast of the Druids. Today this feast reminds us that "as Christian communion among our fellow pilgrims brings us closer to Christ, so our communion with the saints joins us to Christ, from whom as from its fountain and head issues all grace, and the life of the People of God itself."

This year, since the feast falls on a Sunday we will celebrate it at all of our weekend masses. Then we will remember in particular those members of our parish who have passed in the last year at our 6:00 pm mass Sunday, November 1st. Please note there will not be mass on Monday, November 2nd, All Souls Day.

These two feasts invite us through prayer to focus on the reality of Eternal life. Through the Feast of All Saints we reflect on the lives of the Holy Men and Women whom have gone before us and we implore their intercession as we seek to live holy lives ourselves. The feast of All Souls provides us with the opportunity to pray for all of the departed, in particular our loved ones, and ask that God may grant them mercy and welcome them into the fullness of eternal life. Given these two feasts I thought it might be opportune for us to reflect on a passage from the Catechism of the Catholic Church which speaks about our relationship with the communion of Saints. The Catechism states: Communion with the saints. "It is not merely by the title of example that we cherish the memory of those in heaven; we seek, rather, that by this devotion to the exercise of fraternal charity the union of the whole Church in the Spirit may be strengthened. Exactly as Christian communion among our fellow pilgrims brings us closer to Christ, so our communion with the saints joins us to Christ, from whom as from its fountain and head issues all grace, and the life of the People of God itself". Communion with the dead. "In full consciousness of this communion of the whole Mystical Body of Jesus Christ, the Church in its pilgrim members, from the very earliest days of the Christian religion, has honored with great respect the memory of the dead; and 'because it is a holy and a wholesome thought to pray for the dead that they may be loosed from their sins' she offers her suffrages for them." Our prayer for them is capable not only of helping them, but also of making their intercession for us effective. In the one family of God. "For if we continue to love one another and to join in praising the Most Holy Trinity - all of us who are sons of God and form one family in Christ - we will be faithful to the deepest vocation of the Church."

Envelopes are available near the entrance to the church for those who may wish to enroll a departed loved one in our All Souls Novena of Masses. You may drop your envelope in the basket on Sunday. Also, in keeping with our parish tradition we will be posting pictures of loved ones who have passed. If you would like to have a loved one included in these, there is a box to receive pictures on the counter in the entrance of the church. Please note that pictures will not be returned so include a copy that can be kept by the parish.

Fr. Ed McNulty,

Stewardship

Wholehearted

Jesus insists that all religious rules, the witness of prophets and saints, and every aspect of faith rests entirely on wholehearted love of God, and loving others as ourselves. A woman named Carla could not sleep one night. Restless, she opened her Bible and came upon these two greatest commandments. She realized, guiltily, how many things displaced God in her life. She hid behind baggy clothes and believed herself not good enough. Carla's parents had emphasized sin and a harshly judgmental God. Carla saw that the commandment was to love God, love neighbor, love self. The common thread was love, not sin, unworthiness, or judgment. Next morning Carla read the words again. Jesus said "love your neighbor as yourself." Carla equated self-love with selfish pride. She had to understand love in a new way. So began a new path for Carla. She prayed gratefully every day for God's love and blessings. Step by step, she changed.
